Pigment inks are used in the printmaking process using 100% cotton rag paper which will give each print a permanence rating that will exceed 80 years when framed behind glass and away from direct sunlight. A UV coating is applied to each print for added protection and to bring out the tonal range and color depth of the image. These prints are then book-matted using 100% museum quality matboard and foamcore board. Premium Clear Framing grade Acrylite is used with all frames.
